Message

I am pleased to know that Central Bureau of Health Intelligence (CBHI), under Directorate-General of Health Services, Union Ministry of Health & Family Welfare, is releasing its annual publication, 'National Health Profile'. It is a unique publication that brings together all health sector related information on one platform. The purpose is to provide relevant information for planning and decision making to the planners, policy makers, health administrators and research workers. This will further contribute to the improvement of health services and to the equitable distribution of health resources in the Country.

On this occasion, I would like to congratulate CBHI and its entire team members for their commitment in meticulously compiling such vast information in an effective manner. This is really a commendable job and I would urge them to carry forward this spirit. My best wishes to the entire team members of CBHI for all their future endeavours.
